

AMS Geared Up for Weekend Doubleheader

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

(April 29, 2021) – Rounds two and three of the 2021 American Modified Series are set to take place this weekend. On Friday night the series will roll into Moler Raceway Park for the second event of the season. Defending series champion Tyler Nicely looks to maintain the points lead after his win during the Illini 100 weekend at Farmer City Raceway earlier this month. Tomorrow night's event presented by Quickcar will pay $1,500 to win and $200 to start. The quarter-mile Williamsburg, Ohio track is excited to host this weekend's event. Gates are scheduled to open at 4:30pm ET with hot laps at 7pm ET. More details at www.mrpracewaypark.com.

On Saturday, the series will head south to Walton, Kentucky to race alongside the Lucas Oil Late Model Dirt Series as part of the Ralph Latham Memorial event at Florence Speedway. The third event of the season will also pay $1,500 to win and $200 to start. The series last visited Florence Speedway for the 2020 season finale where Will Krup picked up the win. The event Saturday will be LIVE on the MavTV Plus app. Gates open at 5:30pm ET with hotlaps scheduled to begin at 6:30pm ET. More details at www.florencespeedway.com.

To make the weekend more exciting L & M Performance and Slicker Graphics has added a $1,000 bonus to any driver who can win both feature events this weekend. It will be interesting to see if anyone can pick up the bonus money.
