Young Begins Take Em Off Weekend With Win At Charleston Speedway

The first event of the Summit Racing Equipment American Modified Series weekend doubleheader took place Friday night at Charleston Speedway. Trent Young would grab his third series victory of the season in his #10y Pierce Platinum Chassis entry.

Mike Harrison and Gabe Menser would lead the field to green for the 30-lap feature event. Harrison would grab the early lead with Will Krup settling into the second position. Harrison and Krup quickly began to catch the tail-end of the field on lap-9. On lap-11, Harrison would drop to the bottom groove attempting to navigate lap-traffic while Krup would maintain the high-side momentum. As the duo would split the back markers, Krup would bounce off the outside retaining wall exiting turn four and make contact with Harrison sending both drivers spinning into turn one. The accident would end Krup's event and Harrison would be forced to restart at the end of the field. As a result of the unfortunate circumstances for both front runners, Josh Harris would inherit the race lead. Once past the mid-point of the event, Harris and new second place contender Trent Young would begin to edge away from the field thus continuing their season long battle during Friday night's event. However, bad luck would impact Harris with 5 laps to go as he would lose control of his #22 MBR Chassis attempting to lap slower traffic in turn one thus slowing the event for the sixth time. Young would take the point on the restart and never look back to collect the $2,000 pay day at Charleston Speedway. Allen Weisser would take second place as Tyler Nicely completed the podium finishers. Rich Dawson would settle for fourth position while Lucas Lee rounded out the top five.

The remainder of the top ten at the completion of the Summit Racing Equipment A-Main at Charleston Speedway would be Justin Haley, "Allstar Performance Hard Charger" Gabriel Kirtley, James Walters, Randy Shuman, and Rodney Standerfer.

The next event for the Summit Racing Equipment Modified Series will be August 18th at Charleston Speedway. The event will pay $4,000.00 to the winner.
